PROFILE

I am a Data Science student with a strong passion for learning and exploration. With a background in Mathematics, I have developed a keen interest in areas such as Statistics, Probability, Graph Theory, Economics and Finance. I have worked on Machine Learning projects such as Recommender Systems, weather forecasting and Credit Risk Modeling. Additionally, I developed an R-Shiny Dashboard for analyzing Amsterdam house prices.

EDUCATION

PROJECTS

CreditRisk - Predicting Borrower Reliability Jan 2022

- Developed and implemented different binary classification models to identify customers at risk of credit default and assess the associated lending risk.
- Evaluated each model and got accuracy of 0.97, recall and precision of 0.89 and 0.79 for defaulters and 0.98 and 0.99 for non-defaulters respectively.
- Did feature selection and compared weight of each feature with respect to different model to identify key features associated with credit default.

Heartbeat Sentinel - Predicting Heart Failure Nov 2024

- Developed, optimized and implemented Random Forest and XGBoost models to predict heart failure risk, achieving 90% accuracy.
- Deployed a Streamlit app to classify heart failure risk.
- Performed data preprocessing, feature selection, and model evaluation using metrics such as accuracy, precision, recall, F1-score, and ROC-AUC.
- Analyzed results to identify key risk factors and early warning systems for heart disease.

Chennai Temperature and Precipitation Forecasting Oct 2024

- Developed and implemented a time-series model for weather forecasting including average, minimum, and maximum temperatures for Chennai, achieving RMSE values of 1.21, 1.31, and 1.84, respectively.
- Utilized MultiOutputRegressor with LGBMRegressor for model training and evaluated performance using metrics such as MAE, MAPE, and RMSE to ensure accuracy and reliability
